Fruit Ridge Notes - Apples - Monday - April 10 - 2017

Hey Friends

Yup ... Yes Indeed

24 Hr. "Kick-Back" with *CaptoZeb & *EBDCs & *Captan
--- But of course almost nobody can even get a 'Alternate-Center' applied within that 24 Hours.

CaptoZeb certainly sticks better than just straight Captan.
Alicandro has watched CaptoZeb for over 10 years.... calls it 'definitely much stronger vs Apple Scab than a straight-up full dose of either Captan or EBDC.'

A CaptoZeb TankMix can help you with that "Seasonal-Limit" issue with EBDC=21 Lb.Ac and Captan80WDG=40 Lb-Ac.

Captan is 0(zero) Da.PHI while the EBDCs are 77 Da-PHI
Stay far far away from Captan with any Oils. We always recommend zero (0) Oils of any kind ever.... Never any Oils. None. Ever....for several good reasons.

Some Guys like to be done with Captan before 2nd Cover... for Fruit Finish issues like on Gala. But if you're in a SecondaryScabScuffle, you'll likely be into big-rates Captan.

Where you have even the slightest FireBlight concerns, you are hopefully doing the 1 Qt - CS2005 and playing with lower rates of CaptoZeb.

Captan likes pH down to 5.5while the CS2005 and EBDCs dont care.

*Indicate 5 takes care of any/all pH issues...along with 'sequestering' ...and supplies a medium-dose SpreaderSticker ...1 Pint-100Gal1 product... easy ...cheap.

EBDCs really have a good Stick-Quality ...

In certain Orchard Systems we have Guys very successfully using 12-15 GWAUsing over 50 GWA this early is very ill-advised in all Systems ...just not necessary.

Have a Blessed Week !!!
