Fruit Ridge Notes - Wednesday - July 12 - 2017

Greetings All.....On This Rainy Wednesday Morning

Q & A....Yes. Some Guys do use their Imidacloprid / Alias 4F or AdmirePro also as a Soil-Applied for JapBeetle and WhiteGrubComplex. I do not recommend this approach because in doing the Seasonal-Limit of 5 Foliars @ 3.2 oz.-Ac. I'm getting a whole lot of "Blow-By" that reaches all the Soil..... so I'm doin both already. And every oz. you do as a Soil-App counts against you in your total Seasonal 16 oz.Limit.

If you have some old-expensive-AdmirePro to use up, remember the total-Seasonal-Limit is less on that.... = 14 oz.-Ac.

Heads-Up....There's Retain goin out the Door... a lot..... Deanna is Ordering more.

I am attaching this mornings agr.news from Jeff - agr.assistance.... Lots of good stuff in there again this morning....and Yes....

..... I do have permission from the benevolent Jeff

weeks from today.

If you drive straight east thru Ontario, Canada, it takes about 9 - 10 hours to get there.... That's allowing for a couple stops...and the Border. You'll need a Passport.

Don't hesitate to call me or Deanna with any questions about that.... or go to their "www.agrassistance.com" WebSite to Sign-Up for the Tour ...
